ARCHER ITEMS

Its the same old story in the same old way. Dry, drier, driest.

Archer is still on the map as a real live railroad town, both shipping out and receiving freight.

The Heath Grain company is doing a land office business these days. It is not an uncommon sight to see the K. & O. engine taking water at the Archer well. A most pleasing sign has appeared at the corner of Railroad and Main Streets, informing passersby that lots are now for sale in Archer. Several parties are considering different branches of business in town. A Tyrone man was in town Monday, looking over the prospects. Ralph Heath is hauling sand and will have material on the ground in the next few days for a dwelling to be erected on Main street. Welcome to Archer Mr. and Mrs. Heath. It takes just such families as the Heath's to make a real live clean town. Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Spencer have moved to their new home on Main street. Everyone is becoming more and more impressed with the fact that Archer is the coming railroad town of northeast Seward county.
